3. Report

- Department of Environmental Sciences in association with IQAC invited Mr. Anil Bhot, Chief Operating Officer, Digital Media at TechNova Imaging Systems (P) Ltd., for conducting a workshop on 'Professional Ethics'. Mr. Bhot has a rich experience of managing end to end business operations. He has been responsible for P&L and have delivered consistently better performance. He has spearheaded innovation and breakthrough projects to propel the business to unique position. He also has undertaken effective channel reconstruction initiatives to harness the potential of emerging business. Having formulated effective strategies to leverage the unique organizational strengths and synergies, he has contributed to the alliance development with the technology partners, vendors, and principles. He also has developed a highly successful outsourcing business model as an alternative to own investments. He has also groomed leaders who have contributed to organizational growth and has created innovative product propositions with unique cost-benefits positions. His specialties include result-oriented with multi-functional skills and strong business acumen, creating new businesses and consolidating them over a period and manage start-ups and managing mergers and de-mergers of various businesses.
- 166 students from across Arts, Science, Commerce and Unaided section including from NCC, Placement Cell, etc. participated for the workshop.
- The workshop started by Introduction to the program by Dr. Sonal Tawde. Dr. Maninder Dhaliwal, Vice Principal, Science, welcomed the Guest of the Session. This was followed by Introduction of the speaker by Dr. Sonal Tawde.
- Mr. Bhot was interacting with the students and encouraging them to voice their opinions throughout the session.

- Mr. Anil Bhoti started his session by asking for language preferences from students indicating the first step towards inculcating 'Set of values' as individuals. He mentioned how we must be vigilant what is to be done and not done.
- He further elaborated that Values can be differentiated into two types: Morals which are being used to decide what is right and what is wrong. The second is Ethics which elaborates what are the society requirements, thus Ethics is morality of society. He also clarified that everything keeps evolving with an example of how widows in ancient periods accepted Sati. It was the Moral values of Raja Rammohan Roy who denied this concept and abolished Sati.
- Mr. Bhoti elaborated how the concepts of code of conduct flows from group of people who establish the organisation/ industry and flows to the subordinate levels within the organisation as ETHICS. These may vary based on culture, religion, geography, etc. which leads to evolving of ethics. He mentioned various examples for explaining this concept.
- He then came to terms as to how, above ethics and morals is concept of 'Purpose' to be ethically right or wrong. He explained this with four pillars of Holy Book of Hindus 'Geeta'. The four puruṣārthas are Dharma (righteousness, moral values), Artha (prosperity, economic values), Kama (pleasure, love, psychological values) and Moksha (liberation, spiritual values, self-actualization).
- He then differentiated Ethics and Morals by explaining how Ethics is 'discipline', and morals is a subset of ethics. Ethics overlaps with moral. Ethics is same for group of people making it objective, and Morals may change with situations making them subjective. If we don't follow Ethics, we would be punished by the society, but if we don't follow Morals, we would be at guilt, stress and lack of confidence.
- He beautifully interacted with the students explained concept of 'Ethical dilemma' and level of maturity one needs to resolve this.
- Mr Anil Bhoti also played a wonderful video of a TED Talk on 'Why Humans run the World' by Yuval Noah Harari. With this video he explained two important concepts of ethics i.e. 'Choices' we make which changes the world, and 'Integrity'.
- He gracefully ended his talk by quoting 'Your Word is your World' and 'Promise what you can deliver'.
- The students were delighted to participate in the interactive workshop. This was indicated by the questions asked by the participants to seek clarity regarding Professional ethics
